SOME END-OF-YEAR REFLECTIONS

A Gene Cobb, Jr, 33° SGIG, PGM

HAVE YOU EVER MISSED AN OPPORTUNITY?

By the time you see this article, we will have been to Winston-Salem for Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, held a golf tournament that we will all remember, celebrated 100 years of the Valley of Winston-Salem, set the path forward for the North Carolina Scottish Rite Masonic Foundation, given every Scottish Rite Mason the opportunity to have input to the Strategic Plan and tell me what area they would like to serve if the opportunity arises. I sure hope no one missed these opportunities!

October through December is always filled with opportunities and meetings, but this year feels a little different—in an effective way. We have so much to be thankful for in this fraternity. We have leaders who care and share their talents. Our workers have skills and passion that amaze me every day—especially when put to the benefit of our Valleys, charities, and educational efforts. We have come alive in 2025 and are making long-overdue changes to be “the fix in 2026.”

Excellence is not the result of checking boxes for recognition. Excellence is the result of accountability in those areas we are obligated to achieve. Masonry takes a man by the hand and leads him to our Altar. From that altar, he becomes part of a brotherhood, not a bargain. All of us are accountable for the promises we make, and if we find ourselves in a “destitute situation,” there are remedies available. Our obligations apply both in and out of the lodge.

Therefore, since there are no longer minimum dues in North Carolina, Personal Representatives are authorized to determine the operating costs of each Valley according to its needs and recommend a budget that covers all costs of being a Valley in North Carolina. Read that again if you need to, but please do not plead you were never told. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me by phone or email. I always enjoy talking with you!

WE CONGRATULATE THE RICHARD G. MOORE, 33° HONORS WEEKEND RECIPIENTS AND 50-YEAR MEMBERS AT THE RED, WHITE, AND BLUE BANQUET. NEXT YEAR, WE WILL:

Orient Wide Leadership Summit
Grand Master/SGIG train trip
RiteWay Leadership Conference
Town Hall Meetings with SGIG

January 30-31
February 5-8
March in Las Vegas, Dallas, and Charlotte in April
Regional, but not on a stated communication night.

Please check ncscottishrite.org regularly for updates and details. I hope you will be privileged to enjoy these opportunities and more as we continue our work together with the “Right/Rite Heart,” and may the joys of this thankful and holy season be yours. May our nation and the world begin and continue to heal with the holy light of God’s love shining brightly in us.

ORIENT OF NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTHERN JURISDICTION

WHO CAN BEST WORK AND BEST AGREE

Greg Hirsh, 32° KSA, Valley Almoner

I can guarantee that at some point in your life, you've faced the challenge of choosing a side on an issue. Perhaps you've heard something like, "You're either with us or against us." This "us versus them" mentality isn't new; it predates social media and has long been ingrained in society. As a Freemason, I've witnessed too many brothers in our Craft quarrel unnecessarily. A particular line from the Master Mason's degree has stirred my curiosity as I grow in knowledge and virtue, and I believe you know it too: "One sacred band, or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention should ever exist but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who best can work and best agree."

Too often, I've seen brothers forget this seemingly simple yet profound message. We are first reminded that, as the Craft, we are a society of friends and brothers. The Cambridge Dictionary defines contention as disagreement resulting from opposing arguments. Emulation, conversely, is the act of striving to equal or surpass something achieved by another. These two words are deliberately placed together for a reason. Instead of bickering with our brothers, should we not emulate the qualities in one another that help us smooth our rough ashlar? This lesson is so striking that the Senior Warden reminds us at every communication: "...none should go away dissatisfied, harmony being the strength and support of all institutions, more especially of ours!"

As members of the Craft, we should avoid conflict at all costs, particularly within confines of our temples. Instead of discord and disharmony, let us strive to find common ground, remembering that we all act upon the level. On this level, we can communicate honestly and openly, leaving our egos and self-importance at the West Gate. Lead by example, my brothers. Agree to disagree respectfully and with decorum, and perhaps society at large will recognize you as the gentleman you are.

THERE'S MORE TO MASONRY THAN 3 DEGREES

BUSY AS THE PROVERBIAL BEE

Thomas Pope Jr., 33rd

It's been a heady past couple of months for the Valley of Fayetteville with plenty of surprises.

Topping the list would be that the Valley, which was established in mid-2023, received its Charter as a Chapter Rose Croix during the Biennial Session in Washington, D.C. Bro. Ken Wical, 32°, and the Venerable Master of our Lodge of Perfection, received the charter from Sovereign Grand Commander James D. Cole, 33°. Fayetteville had the most members in attendance at the Biennial to see the charter for the Marquis de Lafayette Chapter officially delivered.

A month later, the SGIG of the Orient of North Carolina, Ill. A. Gene Cobb Jr., announced that Fayetteville had finished in a tie for Valley of the Year honors with New Bern. Fayetteville was also the inaugural recipient of the Soaring Eagle award, given in memory of Ill. Steve Lynch to the Valley with the largest percentage of growth since the 2023 Biennial. Fayetteville will retain the latter plaque for at least the next two years.

Fayetteville also held its fall reunion Sept. 27 with the addition of the 7th Degree to its presentation of six degrees. The candidates and new Scottish Rite Masons are Bros. Gary Freeman, Klaus Meckenstock, and Avery Delpit. Bro. Freeman plans to join the Valley of Charlotte as his Council of Kadosh and Consistory, while Bros. Meckenstock and Delpit will take the same steps as new members at New Bern. Fayetteville's next reunion will be held Feb. 28, 2026.

Three members of the Valley of Fayetteville will receive their red hats as a Knight Commander Court of Honour in Wilmington on Nov. 22. Bros. James Pugsley, John Frazier and Kenny Bell are being recognized for their stellar contributions to the Rite.

James Pugsley, left, General Secretary, and Thomas Pope, Personal Representative and Director of the Work, picked up awards for the Valley of Fayetteville's achievements.

WILMINGTON TAKES STATED MEETINGS ON THE ROAD

Matt Moore, 32° KCCH

The Valley of Wilmington represents a vast area of southeastern North Carolina, spanning from Harnett County to Brunswick County, with brethren scattered across many miles. For most, attending a weekday stated meeting is challenging due to time constraints. That's why, during July and August, we brought our stated meetings directly to our brethren.

In July, we visited Wallace Lodge No. 279, which had recently completed its new lodge building. Attendees at the stated communication entered through a magnificent foyer adorned with a beautiful chandelier, then proceeded to the lodge room, where a spotless mosaic pavement and impressive woodwork—dominating the Master's station—caught the eye. It proved an excellent venue for conducting our business and receiving education from Ill. Bros. O.J. Taylor, 33°, and Charlie Ponton, 33°.

In August, we traveled to the western part of our territory in Dunn, where brethren at Palmyra Lodge No. 147 graciously hosted our stated meeting. The brethren of Harnett County have maintained strong representation in the Valley of Wilmington, many of whom have served on degree teams conferring the 20th, 21st, and 28th degrees. At dinner, S. Brinson Hunter III, 32° KCCH, shared a story about his grandfather, Shelton B. Hunter, who was also a Scottish Rite Mason. During the meeting, Bro. Steven Miller, 32°, delivered thought-provoking education on the symbolism of biblical stories and their connections to our own lives

IT'S A BUSY NOVEMBER

Harry Steele, Jr., 33°-Elect

November promises to be a busy and exciting month at the Valley of Wilmington.

On November 1, we will host the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, where our own Ill. Bro. Steve Norris, 33°, will be installed as Grand Master. We look forward to welcoming brethren and their families from across the state.

The following weekend, November 7–8, marks our Fall Reunion in memory of Past General Secretary Ace

Everett, Jr., 33°. Reunions are always a special time of year, filled with fellowship, degree observances, and—most importantly—welcoming our brother Master Masons into the Scottish Rite.

On November 22, the Valley of Wilmington will welcome North Carolina's honor men for the Richard G. Moore, 33°, Red, White, & Blue Honors Weekend. Preparations are underway to make this a memorable event for all involved. For more information, contact General Secretary Matt Moore at 910-762-6452.

SWINGS FOR SPEECH: RITECARE GOLF TOURNAMENT SHINES AT THE EMERALD GOLF CLUB

On October 4, 2025, the rolling fairways of The Emerald Golf Club in New Bern, North Carolina, erupted in cheers and celebration. Over 100 golfers, sponsors, and supporters gathered under crisp fall skies for the annual RiteCare Golf Tournament, a vibrant event championing our mission to empower children through speech and language therapy. This unforgettable day at The Emerald blended the thrill of golf with the joy of raising awareness—and funds—for RiteCare, the Scottish Rite's charity dedicated to helping kids find their voices.

A DAY OF COMMUNITY AND CELEBRATION

The tournament teed off at 12:30 PM with a warm welcome from our esteemed Golf Chair, joined by an ECU Representative, First Citizens Wealth, the SGIG, and The Emerald's own Golf Pro, Jerry Brille, setting a spirited tone for a day of camaraderie and competition. Teams of four—friends, families, and local business leaders—launched into a lively best-ball scramble across The Emerald's lush 18 holes. From the first drive to the final putt, the course hummed with laughter, friendly ribbing, and the occasional groan over a wayward shot.

With over 100 attendees, the energy was electric, uniting weekend duffers and seasoned golfers alike.

The highlight of the day came early on hole #2, where Tim Koons achieved a jaw-dropping hole-in-one, sending the crowd into a frenzy of cheers and high-fives. This rare feat set the tone for an exhilarating day. Other standout moments included thrilling closest-to-the-pin contests on the scenic par-3 sixth and eleventh holes, where even the Jason Ross Auto Sales hole-in-one $50,000 prize was just inches away. Our dedicated volunteers—true champions—kept the day seamless, staffing holes with scorecards, snacks, and smiles. A midday feast from Front Street Fish Company, served with love by Trey and Jennifer, featured mouthwatering seafood platters brimming with shrimp, flounder, coleslaw, french fries, and hushpuppies, fueling the fun and delighting every palate. Sales of mulligans, eagerly snapped up by players looking to boost their game, significantly lifted our fundraising totals.

RITECARE: GIVING KIDS A VOICE

At its heart, the tournament was about RiteCare, a program that has transformed lives by providing free or low-cost speech, language, and hearing therapy to children. From toddlers mastering their first words to students gaining classroom confidence, RiteCare helps kids overcome communication barriers. The October 4 event shone a spotlight

"Seeing our community across North Carolina rally at The Emerald Golf Club for these kids is pure magic. Even people meeting people from the mountains, piedmont and the coastal regions. This tournament, capped by Tim Koons' incredible hole-in-one, shows how a day on the course can change lives." Every swing—and every mulligan purchased—underscored our shared mission: building brighter futures, one word at a time.

CHAMPIONS OF THE COURSE AND CAUSE

As the sun dipped over New Bern, the awards ceremony in The Emerald's clubhouse celebrated both skill and spirit. Congratulations to our winners:

- 1st Place Team: First Citizens Wealth (Carmen Serbio, Bobby Spell, Jeff Nethercutt, Chris Hunter)
- 2nd Place: We Be Strokin' (Matthew Thurston, Mason Thurston, Ricky Strobel, Blake Strobel)

- Closest to the Pin (Sixth Hole): Jeff Nethercutt
- Closest to the Pin (Eleventh Hole): Buddy Dowd
- Hole-in-One Hero and Closet to the Pin (Second Hole): Tim Koons, for his spectacular shot on hole #2.

A heartfelt thank-you to our title sponsor, First Citizens Wealth, whose generous support brought The Emerald's fairways to life with their generous sponsorship. Special gratitude goes to Jason Ross Auto Sales for sponsoring the thrilling $50,000 hole-in-one contest along with 3 more hole-in-one prizes, Minges Bottling Company, Tryon Distributing, Atlantic Engraving, and Upwinds Acres Sailing Charters for their outstanding donations and sponsorships, and to Front Street Fish Company, with Trey and Jennifer's stellar service, for the unforgettable seafood spreads. We also extend special thanks to Don Butto, Raleigh Photographer, and Wayne Lytton for capturing the day's unforgettable moments with their stunning photographs. Thanks also to our other hole sponsors, donors, and Master of Ceremony Thomas VanEtten, whose energy kept the crowd buzzing. Every participant, from players to volunteers, made this event a hole-in-one for RiteCare.

CONGRATULATIONS ILLUSTRIOUS SIR JACK WILLIAMS

Stan Bevers, 32° KCCH

Valley of Franklin

While several members of the Franklin Lodge of Perfection have been honored with Knight Commander Court of Honor, our new Personal Representative, Brother Jack Williams, is our first such honoree to receive the 33°. Jack has been a leader in the formation and growth of this Valley, and I count Jack among my most respected Masons and friends. In honor of Jack's many accomplishments, I asked him to provide a brief biography of his Masonic journey, as well as his goals as Personal Rep. He replied as follows:

I became a Master Mason in July of 2008. I was curious about Masonry as both of my grandfathers were Masons. I joined the Asheville Scottish Rite that fall. My mother is a retired high school history teacher. She always pushed education on me and my little brother. When I received the 32°, I enrolled in the Master Craftsman program offered by the Supreme Council. Because of mom, I have always enjoyed learning history. I have often said Masonry is my love, the Scottish Rite is my passion. It fits me like a glove, I enjoy everything about it, from the educational aspects, to the hierarchy of leaders and staff in DC.

As the newish Personal Rep for the Valley of Franklin, my goals are the same as the Supreme Council and the NC Orient; Valley Growth, fiscal solvency, and, of course, Masonic Education. A few personal goals/ideas that I am working on is an open house to answer questions from the public and to draw interest in ALL the aspects of Masonry.

North Carolina SCOTTISH RITE Newsletter Valley Editor: Inquire for Open Position(s) Available

My plan is to have representatives from blue lodges, AASR, York, Shrine, and the Eastern Star. I would also like to have more "just fellowship" events like when Franklin and Asheville Valleys met at the Asheville Tourists minor league baseball game for a night of cheap hot dogs and good baseball. I'm thinking about a fall BBQ if the logistics work. I would also like to visit some other Valleys both in and out of NC. I was able to visit Guthrie OK back in 2012. I would love to get a group of brothers to visit there again.

Receiving the 33° is definitely a very high point in my Masonic career. I hope to serve the Valley and continue to help Franklin be a success.

Thank you Jack, and congratulations. I look forward to serving Franklin under your leadership for many years to come.

BOONE JOINT MEETING AND ASU CLINIC TOUR

Kenneth Allen, 32° KCCH-Elect

On September 11, 2025, the Winston-Salem & Asheville Scottish Rite Valleys had a joint meeting in the high country in Boone, NC. We had guests from the Greensboro Valley and across the State of North Carolina, as well as one Brother from the Northern Scottish Rite Jurisdiction.

This event began with a tour of the Anderson Reading Clinic at Appalachian State University. The Brothers at the tour were able to see first-hand what the Scottish Rite supports and raises money for.

At the conclusion of the tours, the Brothers and guests convened at Snow Masonic Lodge No. 363, where a delicious and special "Farm to Table" dinner was prepared by professional award-winning chef, "Chef Andrew."

After dinner, representatives from the ASU Clinics gave a compelling program on the ASU Clinics. Everyone could feel the enthusiasm, passion, and zeal of the ASU Clinic Staff for helping others. The ASU Clinic Staff expressed that they were very appreciative and grateful for the support of the Scottish Rite.

Brother Alex Edmisten, 32° KCCH, RiteCare Chairman, challenged the Brothers for donations to help purchase more books for the Clinic. Personal Representative, Ill. Brother Kirby Matthews, 33° met that challenge, and all the brothers chipped-in to raise $764.00. The Scottish Rite Brothers and guests enjoyed a wonderful evening of fellowship and Brotherly love.
